

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS ASSOCIATION of the UNITED STATES

This Roster has been compiled from the best records that could be obtained including the original records of the camp authorities. Although every effort has been made to verify the data secured, yet a certain percentage of errors and omissions is unavoidable, in view of the widely distributed sources of information. This is the only existing roster of all men who have ever attended a Federal Training Camp since their inception in 1913. Its preparation has been in charge of Miss Mary V. O'Brien, of the Headquarters Office, to whom the Executive Committee wish to take this opportunity of expressing their appreciation for the manner in which she has discharged this difficult task.

EXPLANATION OF ARRANGEMENT

In the geographical portion of the Roster (which is arranged according to the four Military Departments of the U. S. Army—See page XV) we have endeavored to have each man's name appear but once, and with the latest address furnished to us. Following the name and address will be shown the camp or camps and year or years attended.

The second section of the Roster is arranged alphabetically according to camps, and the camps arranged according to their locations in the four Military Departments (Eastern, Central, Southern and Western—See page 178). In the camp classification a man's name will appear as many times as he has attended any particular Federal camp. In the Plattsburg camps the man's company, rank, occupation and college will be shown wherever furnished to us. We regret, however, that all this information has not been furnished us by other camp authorities.

Following the Infantry in each camp will come the

- 1 Cavalry
- 2 Machine Gun
- 3 Field Artillery
- 4 Quarter Master's Corps
- 5 Engineer
- 6 Signal Corps

INTRODUCTORY NOTE

SINCE the inception of the Federal Citizens Training Camps in 1913 over 18,000 men have received military training in the various camps throughout the country. Men from all walks of life, together with college men and boys from the high schools, have participated.

The training camp movement, as so far developed, has accomplished three things: it has created a permanent system for training material for the Officers' Reserve Corps; it has given to leaders of thought and action in nearly every large community in the United States, clear and sound ideas based on personal experience, as to the military needs of the country; and it has established a system of intensive field training which can readily be expanded to provide training for all the young men of the nation.

The Military Training Camps Association of the United States is the result of the merger of several organizations with similar purposes. The first Federal Training Camps (the student camps), were instituted by the War Department in 1913 through the initiative of Major General Leonard Wood and various University Presidents. The members of these Student Camps formed at Gettysburg in 1913 "The Society of the National Reserve Corps." The so-called Business Men's or Senior Camps began with the Plattsburg camp of August, 1915, the members of which formed an organization to promote the Training Camp system. Similar organizations were formed by other Senior camps of 1915. In the winter of 1916 all these organizations combined and merged their identity in "The Military Training Camps Association of the United States." The Association is a service organization, that is, membership is limited to men who have completed one or more tours of duty in a Federal Training Camp. The members of every camp so far held since their inception in 1913, have joined the Association, which is supported solely by the voluntary contributions of its members and their friends. Through their generosity the Association was able to conduct an extensive recruiting campaign for the 1916 camps and to make even more comprehensive plans for recruiting the 1917 camps in co-operation with the War Department.

The first Junior Division camp for boys from fifteen to eighteen was held last summer and was so successful that extensive plans have been made with a view to opening these camps to thousands of boys in all parts of the country in 1917.

Largely through the efforts of the Association, legislative recognition was given the Federal Training Camps by section 54 of the National Defense Act of June 3, 1916, which authorizes the Secretary of War to conduct the camps and provides that the cost of transportation, uniform and subsistence shall be borne by the Federal Government. This section is the only legislation providing for the training of citizen soldiers under exclusive Federal authority and free from the curse of divided state and national control.

As set forth in its constitution, the general purpose of the Military Training Camps Association of the United States is the encouragement of "reasonable military training for the citizens of the United States." The immediate purpose of the Association is to develop and extend the work of the Federal Training Camps for civilians. Its policy is set forth in the following resolution unanimously adopted at the meeting of the National Committee on November 24, 1916:

"Resolved that the object and policy of this Association is to bring about a system of universal obligatory military training and equal service for the young men of the United States, under exclusive Federal control."

ENDORSEMENT OF THE SECRETARY OF WAR

WAR DEPARTMENT, March 16, 1916.

To the

NATIONAL COMMITTEE OF THE MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS
ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES.

GENTLEMEN:

I heartily approve and endorse the valuable and patriotic service that is being rendered to the country by the army training camps for civilians.

I believe in the work of these camps, not only from the military point of view but as of value to the nation educationally in promoting discipline, order and good citizenship. The camps are exactly in line with the sound policy of reliance upon a citizenry trained to arms as our main safeguard for defense.

I appreciate highly the service rendered by the university presidents and civilian committees who are forwarding this movement.

These camps were originated by the War Department in 1913 for the training of students, and have been since extended for the benefit of other citizens, with gratifying results.

You may rest assured that in continuing your work of developing and promoting these camps on a national scale you will have the continued co-operation and support of the War Department.

Yours most sincerely,

NEWTON D. BAKER,
Secretary of War.
